Introduction

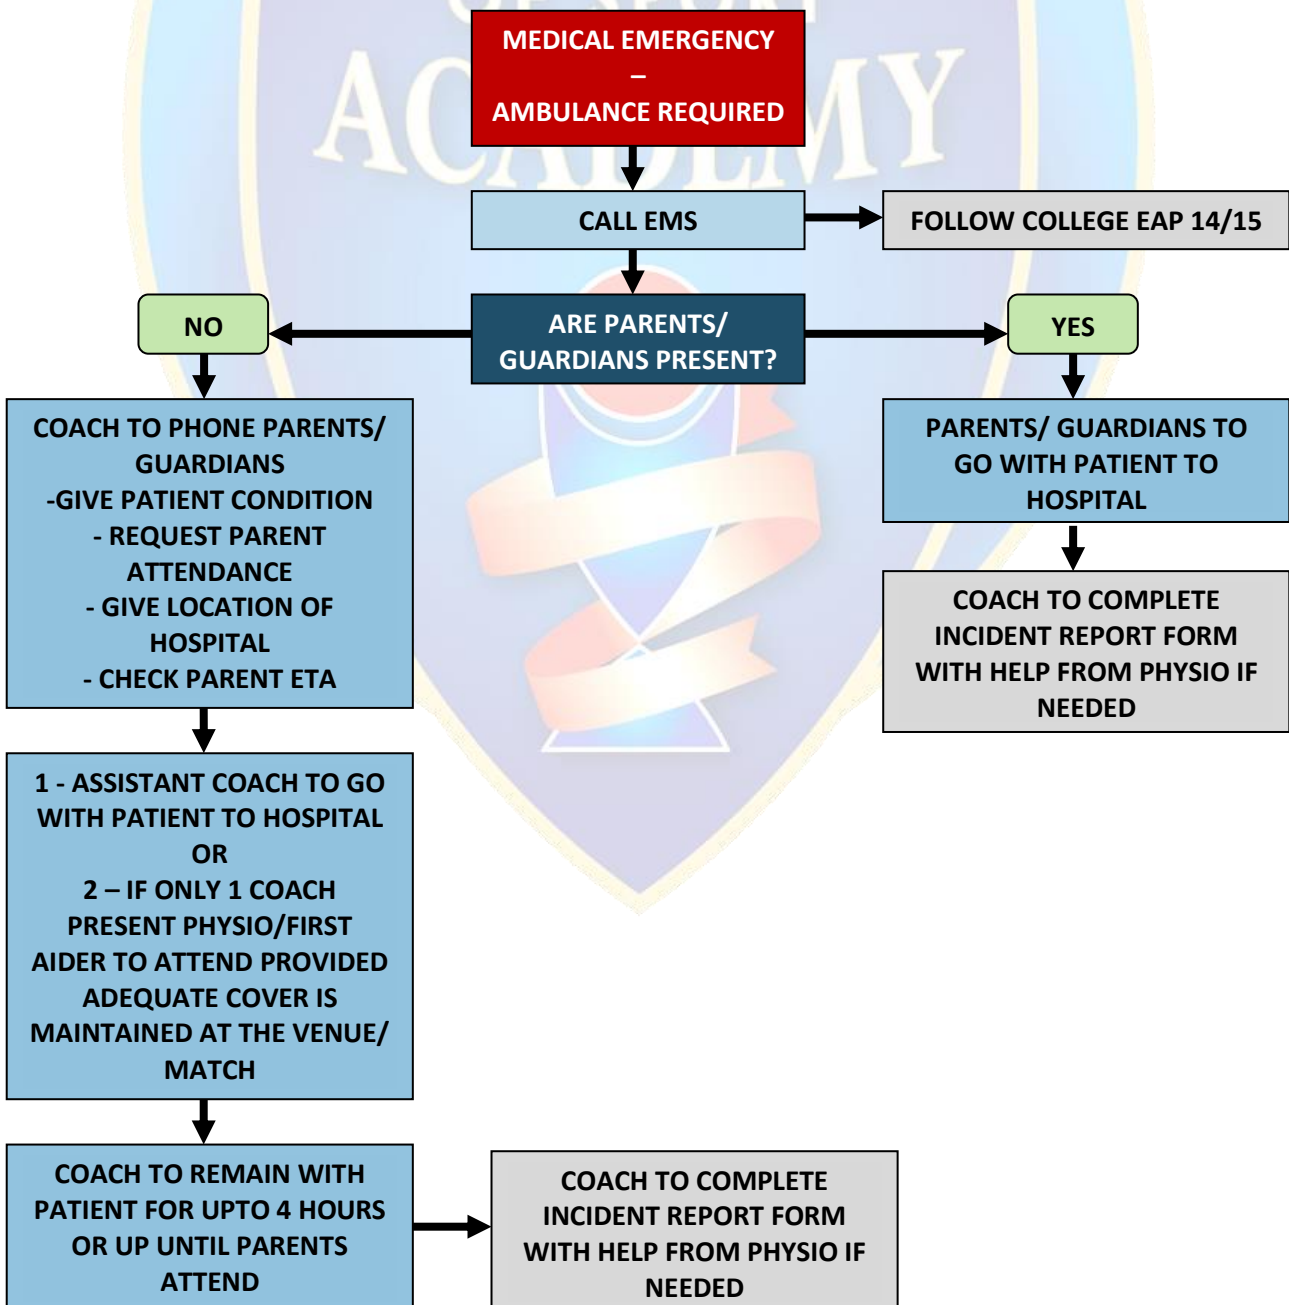

This document is designed to provide coaches, physios and first aiders with guidance on the correct course of action should someone require referral to the hospital as a result of a sporting injury. No specific examples are given and it is up to the coaches' first aid knowledge and/or the physiotherapy staff to determine whether the situation is an emergency.

Please note: This document is a hospitalisation protocol and not a substitute for the sports academies 'Emergency Action Plan' which details what to do in life threatening situations.
